ABSTRACT

The objective of the Higher Education Personnel Training Programs is to assist colleges and universities in meeting critical shortages of highly qualified personnel who are serving or are preparing to serve as teachers, administrators, or educational specialists in institutions of higher education. The training programs listed in this booklet are institutes and short-term training programs that will take place during the spring and summer of 1972 and academic year 1972-73. The 96 programs cost a total of $4,725,000 and will provide training for approximately 7,000 higher education personnel in a variety of professional and academic fields.

DISCRIMINATION PROHIBITED - Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 states: "No person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance." Therefore, the Higher Education Personnel Training Programs, as authorized under Part E of the Education Professions Development Act of 1967, like every program or activity receiving financial assistance from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, must be operated in compliance with this law.

Institutes and Short-Term Training Programs

Introduction

The Higher Education Personnel Training Programs described in this booklet have been authorized under Part E of the Education Professions Development Act of 1967 which amends Title V of the Higher Education Act of 1965. The programs are supported by grants awarded in fiscal year 1972 to institutions of higher education by the U.S. Office of Education

The objective of these training programs is to assist colleges and universities in meeting critical shortages of highly qualified personnel who are serving or are preparing to serve as teachers, administrators, or educational specialists in institutions of higher education.

The training programs listed in this booklet are institutes and short-term training programs which will take place during the spring and summer of 1972 and academic year 1972-73. The 96 programs cost a total of $4,725,000 and will provide training for approximately 7,000 higher education personnel in a variety of academic and professional fields.

Types of Training Programs:

Institutes may vary in length from 4 weeks to a year of either full- or part-time study. Short-term training programs are generally intensive full-time programs of less than 4 weeks' duration. Many of these programs are held during the summer. For further information on any of the programs, the director of the program at the sponsoring institution should be consulted.

Participant Support:

Persons accepted for admission on a full-time basis to an institute or short-term training program are eligible to receive a stipend of $75 per week. Participants in full-time training programs of 4 weeks' duration or longer may receive an allowance of $15 per week for each dependent. Normally, no stipend shall be paid for part-time training programs. Stipends are paid by the training institution. All participants must pay for their own travel and textbooks.

Eligibility:

The only general requirement for admission to an institute or short-term training program is the applicant's capability for undertaking graduate-level training. The director of each program will establish additional admission requirements.

Application Procedure:

Application forms should be obtained from the program director at the sponsoring institution, not from the U.S. Office of Education. Participants in EPDA Part E programs are selected by the program director. The directors also set the closing dates for applying which may vary from one program to another.

APPROVED INSTITUTES AND SHORT-TERM TRAINING PROGRAMS, PART E, EDUCATION
PROFESSIONS DEVELOPMENT ACT, BY STATE AND INSTITUTION: 1972-73

The left column lists the program number, the amount of the grant and the Congressional District. The section on the right lists the name and location of the grantee institution; the cooperating institutions and/or agencies, if any; the name of the training program; the dates of operation; the number and kind of participants; the name, address, and telephone number of the program director.

Log numbers with a 69-, 70- or 71- prefix indicate training programs funded under Title V-E in Fiscal Years 1969, 1970 or 1971 which are being repeated in 1972-73. Log numbers in the 5000 series indicate institutes or short-term training programs which are related to a Title V-E fellowship program at the training institution.
